BETHUNE-COOKMAN COLLEGE

DAYTONA BEACH, FLORIDA

Printed 1957 — Revised 1966

FOREWORD

Students admitted to Bethune-Cookman College are expected to conduct themselves as good citizens in the college community. In an effort to make sure the students know what is meant by the phrase "Good Citizen" certain definite standards have been established as a guide for them. This handbook is published to provide a convenient source of information about standards, policies activities and other essential facts which members of the B-CC family need to know.

By living and learning cooperatively during their college years, students can achieve unusual distinction in the development of worth-while personality traits. The hope of the administration is that each student will share in the responsibilities and opportunities of Bethune-Cookman.

WORDS OF WELCOME FROM THE PRESIDENT

I am delighted to welcome you to membership in the Bethune-Cookman College Family. This is a high moment in your life. It is also a high moment in the life of Bethune-Cookman College. This serious and solemn occasion commits you to duties and relationships that will last as long as life itself. Your matriculation as a college student should not be—and I am sure is not being—taken lightly. It is the beginning of a life in which you will dedicate your talents to new ends. To be a college man or a college woman carries with it obligations with respect to speech, thought, conduct and purpose you cannot escape.

The action you take today is irrevocable. There is no turning back. It calls you to a lifelong search for truth, a lifelong love of learning, a lifelong concern for ideas and ideals. It also commits you to loyalty to the College. Regardless of the duration of your stay, you are now a part of Bethune-Cookman College. From this day forward, Bethune-Cookman College will be publicly identified with you, and you with Bethune-Cookman College. The College will be judged by you, praised or blamed by what you do. This Student Handbook, THE CHALLENGE, is our formal recognition that we have given you our name, have linked our future with yours, and have conferred a privilege and honor that we hope will prove to be among your dearest possessions.

In the event my office can be of assistance to you in any way during your educational sojourn on our campus, please let me hear from you.

A WORD FROM THE DEAN OF INSTRUCTION

We WELCOME you to your new home. You have taken a significant step in a positive direction. The real test comes, however, with the manner in which you take the other steps necessary for the realization of your goal.

Bethune-Cookman College is dedicated to a Christian mission in an atmosphere of genuine hospitality, sound principles of morality, and a serious intellectual climate. The degree to which the ideals of the College in this mission are realized rests largely with you—your personality, your seriousness of purpose, your basic character traits and the use to which you use and develop your abilities and talents. We look forward to your presence and the potential contribution you can make to the on-going of the rich traditions developed through the years by the student-generations that have passed through our Sacred Walls.

As college students, you will be held more responsible for your own personal and educational growth. The manner in which you seek and accept advice from the more mature minds, will greatly influence your success in college and in life.

We look forward to greeting each of you personally and acquainting you in more details with the opportunities and obligations which our college has to offer.

WELCOME FROM THE DIRECTOR OF STUDENT WELFARE

The Bethune-Cookman College Family welcomes you to its circle of warm and congenial friendship. It is our hope that your stay at the college will prove one of the most cherished experiences of your life. You will form friendships which will have a lasting and valuable meaning throughout your lifetime. New horizons will open for you, and helpful experiences gained which will prepare you to live a full and abundant life.

We employ you to enter into the circle of the college family with a spirit of cooperation and usefulness. In so doing, you will grow to full stature and embody those fundamentals which make for a useful and dynamic citizenship. The legacy which was left to us by our founder and president emeritus is an inheritance of no small means. It will pay off in great dividends in the future. Her spirit serves as a motivating force to push you on to your desired goals. Select well your associates; put "first things first"; in planning your program, budget your time in good study habits; choose a limited number of extra-curricular activities in which to participate. Finally, keeping in mind at all times that you are among the selected few to pursue a higher education, and that you owe an undying responsibility to your parents, your community, your state and nation to make the world a better place in which all men may live in peace and dignity.

EDWARD R. RODRIGUEZ

HISTORICAL SKETCH

Bethune-Cookman College stands today as a prime example of the independent liberal arts college which has served its state and the nation in the best tradition of American Educational Institutions.

The history of Bethune-Cookman College began with the merger of two Florida educational institutions—Cookman Institution of Jacksonville and Daytona Normal and Industrial Institution of Daytona Beach.

Cookman Institute was founded in 1872 by Rev. D. S. B. Darnell. It was the first institution of higher education for Negroes in the State of Florida.

Daytona Normal and Industrial Institute was founded in 1904 by Mary McLeon Bethune. This institution was founded on faith and was maintained during its early years as a result of great struggle and hardship. Its initial purpose and organization was to provide industrial and literary training, on the elementary and high school level to girls only. Beginning with five little girls, the influence and service of this unique school grew; its plant was expanded and through the contacts and activities of its dynamic founder, it became nationally known within twenty years of its establishment.

"Miss Homecoming," elected by the students, is crowned the Friday before Homecoming in a ceremony filled with pomp and dignity.

Maroon and Gold Day: Students who have achieved leadership in service and extra-curricular activities are honored in assembly. Athletes receive their letters for participation in football, basketball, track, tennis, golf and field events. Junior-Senior Prom: This outstanding social event of the year is sponsored by the Junior Class to honor graduating seniors.

In addition to these traditional events, there are certain customs which are observed by the Bethune-Cookman College Family:

1. All students stand during the playing of the Alma Mater. The same procedure is followed with respect to the Alma Mater of another school.

2. Male students wear their coats and ties to special assemblies and to social and cultural activities. Male students who disregard this practice are violating good social graces.

3. Orderliness is important. We do not litter the campus with trash, but as good citizens remove scattered bits of paper, if we see any in passing.

4. Students are asked to refrain from smoking in the main areas of the campus, such as the front of White Hall, Library, Dining Room, etc.

5. Students are asked to refrain from loitering on the front of the campus.

6. All scheduled activities start on time; students are expected to be present before the appointed time. Punctuality is a Bethune-Cookman College tradition.

7. Visitors are welcomed when they appear on our campus. A good B. C. C. citizen offers his aid to guide a stranger around the campus and speak a word of appreciation to visiting guests and friends.

8. Every student should know the symbolism of the campus Tombstone ("Here Lies Gossip").

School colors are: MAROON AND GOLD.

RELIGION

Basic in the philosophy of Bethune-Cookman College is the concept that education, combined with the Christian perspective of life is essential to the fullest development of men and women in any age. Our college is committed to an ever expanding program of religious opportunities for both our students and faculty; and indeed, our entire College Family.

Our program is designed to make religion felt in every phase of college life. Our weekly worship service is to encourage the entire College Family to an hour of prayer and dedication.

The S. Marion Weeks Memorial Prayer Room is located on the second floor of White Hall. It is well designed, containing the latest in sanctuary furniture ( altar, pews, carpeting, etc.) for the comfort of all who would pause for personal prayer or worship experiences for small groups.

Our College observes, on an interdenominational basis, the Service of Holy Communion three times each year.

We are proud of the outstanding record of the Hackett Bible School through the years. Meeting each Sunday morning, this voluntary organization engages the cooperation of both teachers and students in weekly Bible study and varying religious activities.

Membership in the YWCA and YMCA is encouraged at Bethune-Cookman College, giving each student the opportunity for contact with Christian students across America and in other parts of the world.

Bethune-Cookman College encourages denominational groups to organize on the campus, forming the student groups to their faiths, and making them feel at home. At present the Episcopal, Methodist, Catholic, and Baptist students are organized, each group having faculty sponsors.

All religious activities on the campus are coordinated through our Committee on Religious Life, made up of faculty, administrative, and student personnel, under the guidance of the College Chaplain. This committee is responsible for the planning of the observance of Religious Emphasis Week on the campus, bringing to the College Family outstanding religious and educational personalities from all over America and other nations.

SERVICES AND FACILITIES

STUDENT WELFARE OFFICE

This office is located on the second floor of White Hall and is operated by the Director of Student Welfare. The objectives and duties of the office are to initiate, coordinate, and supervise such programs or affairs as affect, involve, or relate to the personal, social, moral or vocational growth of the students. Among the varied activities are:

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION: The heart of the program is a week of activities provided for new students at the beginning of each semester, which allows the College and the student to get an informal introduction to each other. Minor aspects of the orientation program may extend throughout the year.

GUIDANCE AND COUNSELING: The program of guidance and counseling is conducted by the members of the Personnel Department, Dean of Men, Dean of Women, and Dormitory Counselors, under the coordination of the Director of Student Welfare. VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE: The Student Welfare Office has a wide variety of material, dealing with occupations and the world of work. Students are invited to explore this material as well as receive additional aid on the problem of choosing a career. During the school year, a special week is utilized in pointing up or highlighting vocational opportunities and careers.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES: A special program for the student body is conducted by the Office of Student Welfare. It initiates some, and at other times permits student groups and organizations to plan and conduct social activities which contribute to the welfare of the entire student body.

THE CHAPLAIN'S OFFICE: The Chaplain's Office is located in White Hall on the second floor, and is always available to each student. Whether he seeks counsel in some personal or family problem, the Chaplain makes contact with your Minister or Church back home. The T. A. Adams Infirmary is staffed by a Nurse and an attending Physician.

— A L M A M A T E R —

Dear Alma Mater, thou Beloved,
We pledge our lives to thee;
Thou art results of toil and pain
And tears come in a stream;
Dear Alma Mater, thou art all
And all the world to me—
Thou'rt the answered prayer of a dream.
Oh God, protect dear B. C. C.
Crown her with love and cheer;
We'll ever sing thy praise to Thee,
It makes us strong and bold.
All hail to thee, all hail!
All hail to thee, dear B. C. C.
Hail thee, Maroon and Gold.

Amen.
